

THE YOUNGER GENERATION

Contemporary Japanese Photography

RELATED EVENTS

THE YOUNGER GENERATION: CONTEMPORARY JAPANESE PHOTOGRAPHY

At the J. Paul Getty Museum, Getty Center
October 06, 2015–February 21, 2016

TALK

Contemporary Japanese Photography: A Reaction Against "Girl Photography"

Sawada Tomoko and Shiga Lieko, contemporary photographers concerned with notions of identity as it relates to the medium of photography, speak with Kasahara Michiko, chief curator, Tokyo Metropolitan Museum of Photography, about the challenges and influences impacting women photographers in Japan.

Thursday, October 15, 7:00 p.m.
Getty Center, Harold M. Williams Auditorium

PERFORMANCE

Gordon Getty Concert: OOIOO

OOIOO has always created a musical language of its own. Under the leadership of Yoshimi, the group has recorded six albums that have subverted expectations and warped perceptions of what constitutes pop and experimental music. Four years of work went into making Gamel, their bold new album inspired by the Javanese style of gamelan. Tickets $20.

Saturday, December 5, 7:30 p.m.
Getty Center, Harold M. Williams Auditorium

TOURS

Artists' Point-of-View Tour

Join photographers Sawada Tomoko and Shiga Lieko, whose work appears in the exhibition The Younger Generation: Contemporary Japanese Photography, to learn about their processes of creating photographic series. Sawada talks about the difficult personal transformation she underwent to generate the self-portraits that appear in her project OMIAI, while Shiga recounts how the 2011 Tōhoku earthquake and tsunami impacted the development of her mesmerizing series Rasen Kaigan. Sign up begins at 12:30 at the Information Desk.

THE YOUNGER GENERATION

Contemporary Japanese Photography

Thursday, October 8, 1:30 p.m.
Getty Center, Museum galleries

Curator's Gallery Tour

Amanda Maddox, assistant curator of photography, the J. Paul Getty Museum, leads a tour of the exhibitions Ishiuchi Miyako: Postwar Shadows and The Younger Generation: Contemporary Japanese Photography. Meet under the stairs in the Entrance Hall.

Thursday, October 22 and November 19, 2:30 p.m.
Tuesday, December 22, 2:30 p.m.
Getty Center: Museum galleries

